

Bird and Dung

TALES FROM ROACH CITY

Welcome to Roach City, a place completely inhabited by insects, where the streets never sleep, and neither do the moths. A place where few crimes go unsolved, and all thanks to the city's most famous detective duo. Who are these courageous investigators? Bird and Dung, private detectives, that's who!

Like their names suggest, Bird is a ladybird and Dung a dung beetle, and together they form a crime-fighting team facing danger and adventure on the city streets.

Whatever the crime, whatever the hour, this crack team are on call and will be on the scene sleuthing away. Unfortunately for Bird and Dung that means missing clues, getting lost being chased, breaking things, insulting clients, bumping heads, falling down lift shafts and eating the evidence.

A sharp dress sense and magnifying glass doesn't make a detective, but this upbeat duo always succeed against the odds, making Roach City a safer place with each mystery solved. These hapless insects always get their man, or should we say bug, but not without a few mishaps along the way. With Bird and Dung at the heart of every case, events can't help but quickly descend into a rollercoaster ride of slapstick and comedy.
